SOLDIERS THREATEN A GRIPMAN.

HE WANTED TO RUN HIS CAR THROUGH THE 47TH REGIMENT, OF BROOKLYN, ON ITS WAY TO STATE CAMP.

hayonets were drawn and there was a prospect of a fight for a minute at noon yesterday at Thirdave. and Twenty-third-st., when a gripman of a cable-car tried to run over members of the 47th Regiment, of Brooklyn, who were on their way to the State Camp. The regiment had crossed the Bridge, and was marching to the Grand Central Station to board a special train. The line of marching men had proceeded up Park Row, the Bowery and Third-ave., and was turning west through Twenty-third-st., when the gripman of a cable-car going north thought he could not wait for the regiment to pass and ran the car against members of Company F, who were making the turn. Two of the soldiers were knocked down by the car. Others drew bayonets or raised their guns as clubs, shouting at the gripman to stop, and they appeared to be about to attack the gripman when the car stopped.

The sripman caught up an iron bar to defend ayonets were drawn and there was a prospect be about to attack the gripman when the carstopped.

The gripman caught up an iron bar to defend himself. The captain of the company sprang on the car with drawn sword and compelled the gripman to lay down the bar, threatening to run himthrough the throat. Then the company was reformed, and the march proceeded in order. The car was not allowed to proceed until the regiment had passed. Policemen present made no arrests.

The 47th Regiment started from the Grand Central Station for the State Camp at 1 p. m., under the command of Colonel John G. Eddy. About five hundred and fifty men were in line.

THE REGIMENT AT THE CAMP. State Camp, Peekskill, July 17.-The 47th Regiment, of Brooklyn, Colonel John G. Eddy, and the 3d Provisional Battalion, composed of the 7th Sepa-Company, of Cohoes; the 21st, of Troy; the 23d, of Hudson, and the 32d, of Hoosick Falls, now

The 22d Regiment, of New-York, and the 2d Pro-The 22d Regiment, of New-York, and the 2d Provisional Battery, which were in the camp, withdrew on the arrival of the 47th and the 3d Provisional Battalion. Colonel Bartleit and the officers of the 22d after the parade last evening paid General Tillinghast a visit, and there were congratulations on both sides. Although the men of the 22d were handicapped by some bad weather, they made a good showing in camp, and the parade last night, as well as the early drills of this morning, were excellent. After parade last evening a sword was presented to Captain D. J. Murphy of Company A by his company. Colonel Bartleit n.ade the presentation speech. Major Thurston, of the same company, received a silver matchbox, and Company A passed resolutions of thanks to Colonel Joseph G.
